

Bert Rijk

Bio

Bert is a farmers son, educated in Wageningen and enthusiast about agtech & drones. Bert uses hands-on agricultural experience with theoretical knowledge to merge science and practice into state of the art products for precision farming. This is part of the solution to lift agriculture to a higher level required to meet challenges of the future. Furthermore, Bert is interested new business development, sustainable ideas relating to circulaire economy and the world of Belgian beers.